To Hold Folk Fete
At Frankfort School

The Frankfort school gym will be the scene of the County Folk festival, Thursday evening, July 26, when members of rural county organizations hold their annual program of events, which will be considered for the State festival held later in the year. Contestants must be from Farm Bureau or Home Bureau families, or 4H, Rural Youth, F. F. A. and F. H. A. members.

The county folk festival will require one number from soloists; the state festival requires two. Individuals may represent only the county in which their membership is held, and only individuals of non-professional standing are eligible. New events this year will be (1) vocal solo, (2) instrumental solo, and (3) family waltz duo.

The County Sports festival will be held at Nowell Park in Joliet, Wednesday, May 8. Mrs. Betty Wingrove, home adviser, and Wayne Churchill, farm adviser, are assisting the committees with the plans.

Wed in Chicago
University Chapel

A wedding of interest to Homer and Orland people was solemnized at the Thorndyke-Hilton Memorial chapel, U. of C., at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 17, when Lila M. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Peter Smith of Homer township and the late Peter Smith, became the bride of Ralph V. Ganser, son of Mrs. Mary Ganser of Mishawaka, Indiana and the late Mr. Ganser.

The bride wore a white faille suit trimmed with rhinestone buttons, a white picture hat and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemum surrounded by white stock.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Everette Heatherwick, matron of honor, who wore an orchid suit and carried a bouquet of deep purple iris and purple stock.

Joseph Skom of Aurora acted as best man.

Miss Smith was given in marriage by her brother, Peter Smith, of Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

The bride's mother wore a navy tulle dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white stock, while the senior Mrs. Ganser was dressed in gray sheer with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and stock.

The bride attended Goodings Grove school, L. T. H. S., and the U. of I. and is employed as a secretary at Billings hospital, Chicago.

The groom attended Purdue university and is now a senior at the U. of C. School of Medicine. Following the wedding ceremony a reception for more than one hundred guests was held in the home of the bride's mother.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Mrs. Thomas F. Wagner of Lockport and Mrs. Heatherwick of Homer; and also by Mesdames Victor Messana and Ellis Wyrdike of Mishawaka.

VILLAGE BOARD
DISCUSSES NEED OF STORM SEW'R

The Mokena village trustees, at their regular meeting held July 3, voted to engage a village attorney by the year; also to investigate complaints on the closing for the past few weeks, of Walsh lane, formerly known as Marti road. The street has been called Walsh lane since Mrs. John Walsh deeded 20 feet along the edge of her property to the village to provide space for widening the road.

The committee on streets and alleys reported that they will hire someone to cut the weeds and that streets will be repaired. The water department plans to open fire hydrants twice each month.

A county health engineer was consulted in anticipation of the need of a storm sewer and he put a rough estimate of $500,000.00 as the possible cost of a sewer that would be permitted by the state, but he recommended that the State Health department engineer be consulted. The board may call a special meeting with the state engineer present and also to pass on the appropriation to be made for tax basis.

The appointment of Harold Miller as village treasurer was approved. Plans to hire a maintenance man were discussed.

Born in Homer in 1878, he engaged in farming for some years before moving to Lockport where he was employed at the Barrows Lock company and the Illinois Cereal company. In 1917 he moved to Joliet where he was a time keeper and bookkeeper for Schmitz brothers and for the Peter Perella company.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

To Up Rock Island
Commuters' Fares

(CNS)—A fare increase affecting 4,700 commuters who use the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad was approved Monday by the Illinois Commerce commission.

The increase affects only multiple-ride tickets between points less than 7½ miles apart. Commuters to the Loop from the Englewood (63rd street) and the Normal Park (67th street) stations, and riders between some stations south of the LaSalle street station will be affected.

Petitions had been granted Blue Island and the villages of Midlothian and Crestwood to intervene in the railroad's request for higher rates. An ICC Examiner concluded hearings on the hike last April 13.

The following minimum ride rates can now go into effect on July 15: 13-cents on 12-ride weekly tickets and 48- and 54-ride monthly tickets. The 48-ride ticket goes from 5.45 to 6.24. 15-cents on 10- and 25-ride bearer tickets and special shoppers' tickets, and 10-cents on school tickets. The 10-ride annual bearer ticket goes from 1.45 to 1.50.

This increase brings multiple ride x fares to slightly over the 2-cent-a-mile ceiling set in a 1907 state law that was recently repealed by the Illinois legislature after a court fight. The increase will give the railroad about 31,669 additional revenues each year. The company said it had been losing about $96,638 a year on its suburban system.

Boys Return Home
After Trip to Ind.

The two boys who left their homes in New Lenox and Mokena last week have been returned home.

Dick Tomany, son of Lloyd Tomany of New Lenox and Marvin King, who makes his home with the Darrell Manhart family, got as far as Vincennes, Ind. when the police picked them up. Mr. Tomany was called by telephone and drove to Vincennes at once to get the boys.

The boys were seeking a little adventure and Marvin was wanting to see his uncle in Tennessee. It wasn't very long before Dick was getting a little homesick and was heading back home. So all is well on the home front once again.

Editor and Family
Entertained Press
Members Sunday

Mrs. Margaret M. Semmler, editor, with the assistance of her daughters, Miss Adeline Semmler, Mrs. Ada Westlund and son-in-law Ramon Westlund were hostesses to the members of the Illinois Woman's Press association in their home Sunday afternoon at Mokena.

It was planned to have a wiener roast and picnic dinner on the lawn, but the rain poured down most of the day, so the affair was adjourned to the basement recreation room. The 35 guests seemed to more enjoy the compactness of the space which added pleasure to the occasion. The picnic dinner was served by Mrs. Alma Brown and if the wieners were not roasted they tasted evenly as good.

The sun did come out for a short time in the later afternoon when all could enjoy the yard and the tour through the newspaper shop and office.

The women who are all writers, with some husbands and children came from Chicago, Oak Park, River Forest, Homewood, and Lansing.

The Illinois Woman's Press association is the world's oldest group of professional women writers and have a large membership.

Under The Cross
Of Malta

All around the nation, VFW posts are receiving awards and recognition for community service. We need only to page through the VFW magazine and reflect what we might have done. There are thousands of stories of service.

It is late to enter the national contest unless it is repeated next year. However, our service is needed just as much this year as last, and even though we may not get any awards, we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we are doing something if we do act now.

If nothing else, we can go along with the VFW National Defense Committee recommendations. They are as follows:

1. Support of the National Security through civil defense by long term policy and action program.

2. Promotion of an educational program for mass public enrollment in civil defense activities.

3. Participation in civil defense program through the channels of all VFW posts.

4. Acceptance of civil defense activities as a major, continuing phase of our national way of life.

Meeting night rolls around again on Thursday, July 12. Our commander has had to go home to see his father, who is in poor health. Its up to us to carry the ball while he is gone, so let's get going.

The circus will be here Saturday, July 21st and Sunday, July 22nd. The tickets were to have been out by now, but I haven't seen them yet. Let's get them sold.—Eino L. Saarela, pub.

The New Lenox Methodist church was the scene of a lovely summer candlelight wedding of Miss Dorothy Jeanne Francis and William John Wilson, Saturday evening, June 30, at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Ralph Miller read the ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and a centerpiece of white gladioli, daisies, and orange blossoms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Francis of Francis road and Mr. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Elmira Heights, New York. Mrs. Carelton Cole sang "Because", and "Oh Promise Me", accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Leonard Warning. Rev. Miller sang, "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride wore white embroidered net over taffeta fashioned with a full skirt and a short flared cape over the strapless bodice. Her shoulder length veil of imported illusion net had a scalloped rolled hem and was caught at the temples with pearl orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white daisies tied with white streamers and wore embroidered net mitts.

For something old, borrowed and blue, the bride wore an heirloom turquoise ring, belonging to the groom's great grandmother and worn by all the Wilson brides. Mr. Francis gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Mervil Christian of Ft. Knox, Ky., was matron of honor. Miss Dorothy Dougherty of New Lenox, and Miss Kay Whelan of Chicago, were bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid respectively, they wore identical gowns of organza with satin cummerbund and flared cape. The matron of honor in aqua, the bridesmaids in pink, all carried yellow daisy bouquets and wore the same flowers in their hair. The bride's mother wore a long blue chintilly lace dress with a white gladioli corsage. She had white accessories and wore a three strand pearl necklace and pearl earrings.

After the ceremony supper was served in the church dining room to 75 guests. The supper of baked ham, chicken salad, potato salad, cold slaw, tossed salad, rolls, celery and carrot sticks, radishes, pickles, olives, cake and coffee was served by the Friendly Circle of the church.

The brides table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with figures of the bride and groom under a wedding bell. Mrs. Frank Townsend had charge of the guest book.

Guests were from Elmira, N. Y., Ft. Knox, Ky., Chesterton and Sidney, Ind., Fairbury, Midlothian, Berwyn and Chicago. The guests later adjourned to the Lion's Den where dancing was enjoyed.

The bride is a graduate of Parker high school in Chicago and was employed as manager of the 67th and Stony Island Currency exchange in Chicago. The bridegroom is employed by the George A. Fuller Construction company of Chicago. They expect to make their home in Harvey, Ill.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for a wedding trip to Manitowish, Wis. They will stay at Syke's resort owned by the brides uncle and aunt. The use of a cottage for two weeks was their wedding gift to the newly weds.

Two showers were given for the bride by her aunts, Mrs. T. P. Seonler and Mrs. Michael Whelan both of Chicago. Many beautiful gifts were received.

Silver Cross Staff
To Give Scholarship

The girl most likely to succeed as a nurse among those who are candidates for admission to Silver Cross School of Nursing, Joliet, on August 27, will be given a full scholarship by the medical staff of Silver Cross Hospital, Dr. George H. Woodruff, president, announced today. A sum of $250, covering tuition, textbooks, uniforms, room, board and laundry, was contributed by the doctors.

Scholastic and health records of all applicants, including those girls who have passed pre-entrance tests, will be reviewed by a committee working with nursing school authorities. Leadership and nursing aptitude will be considered along with scholastic standing in selecting the girl who the doctors feel will make an outstanding nurse, Dr. Woodruff stated.

Vitality interested in securing nursing service in the community and thus assisting in general nurse recruiting, the hospital staff hopes to attract some outstanding girls to the nursing profession through the selective scholarship, Dr. Woodruff explained.

Applications and records for review will be received until July 30, Miss Adeline M. Jorstad, director of the nursing school, announced, saying that the faculty was honored by the action of the staff physicians in behalf of nurse recruiting. A final pre-entrance test will be held at the school early in August she said.

All Escape Injury
In Three Accidents
On R. 30 Sun. Night

Three accidents occurred Sunday night within two hours on route 30 east of New Lenox. They were reported by Deputy Charles Cracraft and Charles Hahn. A car driven by Howard Weis, 21, of New Lenox, collided with a trailer-tractor, driven by Robert Waters, of Three Oaks, Mich., about 8:30 in the evening. Weis told officers that as he was driving east a car in front of him swerved from side to side and being unable to pass it he dropped back and made a left hand turn when he came to a crossroad. Waters attempted to pass then and he struck the left side of Weis' car. No one was injured.

Howard Kremers, 33, of West Chicago, sideswiped a semi-trailer driven by Gregg Elkin, 32, of Eagle Grove, Iowa, about 10:30 p.m. As Kremers approached the west bound truck in the heavy rain his car went off the shoulder and he lost control of it. After hitting the truck his car knocked down a telephone pole at the side of the ditch. His son, John, 7, and John B. McCoy, also of West Chicago were with him. All escaped injury.

A few minutes after this accident Kenneth French, 37, of Nevada, Iowa, who was driving a semi-trailer, hit the wires of the pole knocked down in the previous accident, and laying across the road. The pole was forced up and hit both the tractor and trailer of the truck, they were ditched. French escaped injury.

NEW LENOX MAN SURGICAL
PATIENT AT MAYO CLINIC

Mr. George Klausling, Lenox furnace dealer at New Lenox who underwent surgery in St. Mary's hospital, Rochester, Minn., two weeks ago, is improving nicely and expects to return home next week.

Mokena is going to have a treat! It is by way of a circus, and is being sponsored by the Mokena VFW and will be held July 21 and 22 on the ground adjoining the hall on Wolf road.

The Alvarado Wonder Circus has been engaged to put on their interesting and exciting special features which never fail to please their large audiences. Everyone miles around will not want to miss these thrilling entertainers.

The accompanying picture to the left is beautiful Betty Pasco who lives a dangerous and exciting life. She actually defies death before the very eyes of thousands twice daily as she performs her spectacular trapeze routine with the Alvarado Wonder Circus.

The circus is scheduled for Saturday, July 21 performance and Sunday July 22 afternoon at 2:15 and evening at 8:15.

The charming aerialist has the face and figure of a movie star and could easily obtain a safer job as a model or hostess but she prefers the dangerous life of the circus.

Betty says, "I love the Circus. I love to thrill the crowds with my act. In the Circus I am in my heaven. I don't ever mind the hardships that accompany circus life. We are just like one big family and we take the mud, rain, heat, long moves, late arrivals etc. in stride".

Betty, truly a champion of the Circus, is loved by all her circus associates.

The Real Cause of Inflation—Reckless Government spending of borrowed money is the real cause of the present inflation. There are other causes such as retail credit purchases, credit extended by banks, etc., but these other causes represent only 1-3 of the inflationary pressure, while 2-3 of the inflationary pressure is due to the deficit spending program of the Administration.

A demand for price controls comes from the AF of L and the CIO and is re-echoed by President Truman. However, these same organizations demand that credit controls be relaxed. Credit controls are far more effective in curbing currency expansion—the root of inflation—than price controls. Currency expansion brought about by government deficit spending is the malady that needs to be treated. Price controls are only doses of aspirin to relieve the pain; they are not a cure for inflation.

High prices in and of themselves are not inflation; they are the result of inflation. Can one cure a disease by trying to control its results? Controls cause shortages and dislocations of materials and manpower. This pushes prices still higher. The cost of administering controls adds to the debt, inflates the money supply by extra millions and causes prices to rise still higher. Controls stifle production, thereby creating shortages and consequent higher prices. How can anyone SPEED production by CONTROLLING it?

The present inflation, in terms of arithmetic, is caused by the expansion of our money supply from $36 billion in 1940 to $116 billion in 1950. This vast expansion of the currency is the result of the Administration's policy of borrowing from the banks to cover the deficit spending that has been practiced. The Administration can and does force banks to buy its I.O.U.'s. The real cure for inflation is to stop the Government's deficit spending program, and to limit the extension of private credit. The cure is not to be found in any Price Control law—that is only a dose of aspirin to relieve the pain.

Free Trips at Taxpayers' Expense—Recently the Economic Cooperation Administration announced that allotments of Marshall Plan dollars for the first eleven months of the current fiscal year reached the total of $2,183,720,000. The total so far allocated since the start of the ECA programs amounts to $11,659,911,000. Other billions have gone to Greece, Turkey, China, and countries in the Far East.

One of the money-wasting schemes employed by ECA to build up so-called better relations with countries we are aiding is the promotion of international travel at the expense of American taxpayers. Every few days a group of Americans shove off for Europe to be taken on personally-conducted tours to see how effective our help to the Marshall Plan countries has been. At the same time groups of Europeans are being brought to the United States where, at the expense of the American taxpayers, they are taken on tours of our farms, cities, industrial plants, and of Washington.

On May 13, 1951, ECA reported: "The ECA program has brought some 500 groups to the United States. They have studied the industrial and scientific know-how which has given this country its high productivity and output."

On June 7, 1951, ECA announced: "Some 80 executives and technicians from the wood-using industries of Western Europe will come to the United States this summer to study timber processing methods developed here."

On June 11, 1951, ECA announced: "About 200 top-ranking metal scientists and engineers from the free nations of Europe will attend the World Metallurgical Congress in Detroit in October at the invitation of the American Society for Metals and under Marshall Plan sponsorship."

Under its technical assistance program ECA will sponsor the costs of travel and living expenses in the United States of these visitors from the Marshall Plan countries. That's how our money goes.

Ming Toy Thrills With Slide for Life

EXOTIC Balancing Expert from the Orient

This lovely Oriental Miss wire-walks from the ground to a position just under the roof of the tent, up a cable strung at an angle of 45 degrees without touching the wire with her hands and nothing to help her balance.

It would exhaust the ordinary person just to walk flights of stairs from the ground to roof. The leg muscle, nerve, energy and control needed to climb that steep wire would be enough to make that a sufficient performance and a near miracle in itself. But having made it, Ming Toy then proceeds without rest into a dangerous routine of unbelievable feats up on the high wire. Having completed the routine she then begins the taxing and dangerous walk DOWN the wire, which is even more difficult and calls for more control than going up. And this when by all ordinary standards she ought to be both physically and nervously exhausted.

So when you see the ALVARADO WONDER CIRCUS at the VFW Grounds, Saturday, July 21 and Sunday, July 22nd, at Mokena, let out a little cheer for the fabulous MING TOY when she returns to earth!

Rufe's Ramblings

By RUFÉ PICKETT

Clayton M. Coborn of Mokena is a conductor on a suburban train. For several years past he has started out of Joliet each week day morning, made a Blue Island turn during the day, and finished up in Joliet shortly after six in the evening. As soon as he gets his train put away and sends the engine to the roundhouse he gets in a jalopy and motors home. Now I never won a contest in all my life and it is not my idea to start any competition between myself and brother Coborn, but so many of our friends have suggested that he be contacted. Everybody says that his account of his experiences on the way home in a recent blizzard will make more interesting reading than any Rambling I can write.

I recollect one time way back yonder when I was working on the road down home. I was called as the head brakeman on the regular daily except Sunday up-freight. The higher we got into the foothills of the Blue Ridge the lower the thermometer dropped. There was about two inches of loose dry snow on the ground and when that got all mixed up with the wind that came whistling down the holler it was impossible to even see the front end of the engine. Shortly after whistling for the road-crossing where the turnpike goes over at a 45 degree angle we began to realize that something was serving as a sort of windbreak. Just as soon as the engineer observed that whatever it was had a red lantern hanging on it he brought the train to a stop. I climbed down and ran ahead. When I found that we had been trailing along behind a two horse wagon loaded with cord wood, I asked the old gentleman who was driving what he was doing a going up the railroad track with a wagon. He said he was just beginning to wonder what we were doing a going up the wagon road with a railroad train. There was nothing for us to do but back up over the crossing and chip away the ice which had caused us to start on our detour. That was the first time I ever realized that the tracks made by a standard gauge wagon or buggy were the same as a standard gauge railroad. I have often wondered with the ground frozen as solid as it was and the snow blowing so bad, just how far we might have gone up the wrong holler if we hadn't overtaken the old man and his two horse wagon.

Economic Highlights

The major problem now faced by the top defense planners is inflation. That, it is reported, is the view of Defense Secretary George Marshall.

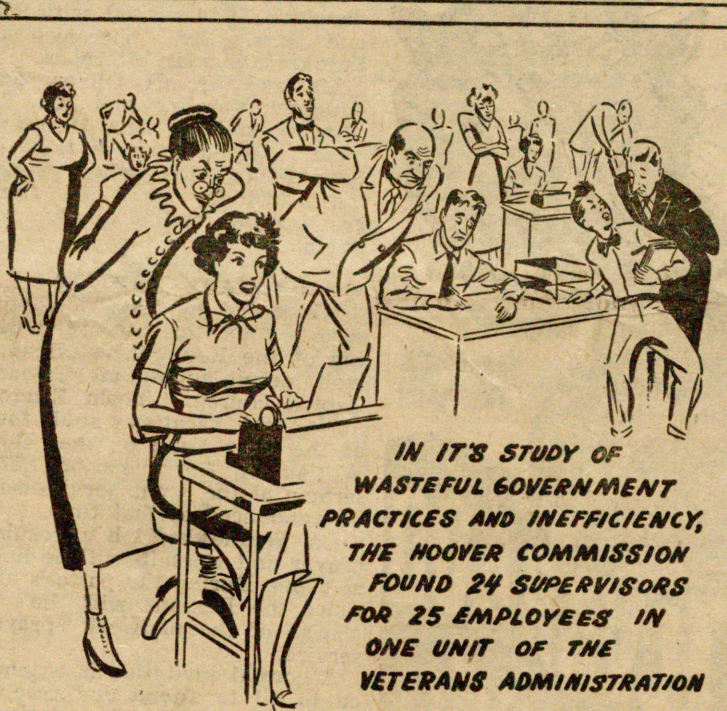

According to the current report, he addressed a grave-faced meeting of the Defense Mobilization Board with these words: "Inflation is getting out of hand. That is especially true as far as the military is concerned. Since Korea, the prices of essential supplies which the services have to buy have continued to rise without a halt. We have lost more planes, tanks and guns by high prices than have been destroyed by the enemy. Unless drastic action is taken promptly to curb inflation, this nation will soon be so weakened that it could not win in an all-out war with Russia."

General Marshall, the report continues, was followed by Eric Johnston, the Economic Stabilizer, who endorsed these views and added, "I just cannot stabilize prices and wages with every group demanding concessions. It's impossible."

High prices have really come with a vengeance to the defense chiefs—as they have to the public at large. As an example, the Army, Navy and Air Forces have asked for budget appropriations which would total substantially more than $100,000,000,000. Under present conditions, of course, there is no chance of such figures being approved. The services will have to get along as best they can with a great deal less. But it is an indication of the way things are going. The military dollar, like every other dollar, is a sad and shrunken thing by comparison with past times. And, to make matters still worse, the machines of war are far more complicated than were those of World War II. The planes and tanks and other weapons of the present make those of the last conflict look almost cheap.

Mr. Johnston has said, with undoubted accuracy, that every major group in the country—

Too Many Bosses!

IN ITS STUDY OF WASTEFUL GOVERNMENT
PRACTICES AND INEFFICIENCY,
THE HOOVER COMMISSION
FOUND 24 SUPERVISORS
FOR 25 EMPLOYEES IN ONE UNIT OF THE
VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

No wonder 500,000 employees leave government service every year! Scrambled organization, topheavy with executives... endless, pointless paperwork... inexcusable delays. The bi-partisan Hoover Commission—created by unanimous vote of Congress—found these situations in the Veterans Administration and other governmental offices. For example, they discovered that the VA takes five times as long to pay a death claim to a veteran's widow as do private companies and uses four times as much manpower per policy. The Commission recommended methods of streamlining the executive branch of the Government, making it more efficient and economical. Already, 50 per cent of its recommendations have been made into law. The rest—which would save taxpayers approximately three billion dollars—awaits action now. Public support is needed to urge Congress to finish the job quickly so that these funds can be used for essential purposes.

Half Way to the Goal Line!

APPROXIMATELY 50% OF THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BI-PARTISAN HOOVER COMMISSION HAVE BEEN ENACTED INTO LAW BY CONGRESS...
THE REST AWAITS THEIR ACTION.

Every President since Grover Cleveland has asked Congress to cut away the red tape from the executive branch of the Federal Government; to eliminate horse-and-buggy methods which waste one out of every ten tax dollars; to permit the handling of the tremendous workload according to modern business-like standards. The Hoover Commission, which was created by unanimous vote of Congress, offers the greatest opportunity this nation has ever had to cut billions of dollars of fat from the government's "waste-line". All Americans—regardless of political party—can and must agree that Federal funds, once appropriated, should be wisely managed and spent with care. If the present Congress passes the remaining 50% of the Hoover Commission recommendations now before it, approximately three billion more dollars will be freed for defense, or other essential purposes. It can be done, if the public wants it.

business, labor, and the farmer—is exerting pressure on his office for preferred treatment. It seems to be human nature to ask that the other fellow be made to carry the major burdens of inflation and related problems. But, going beyond this, the great bulk of economists, including some of the "liberal" schools, are convinced that the government is the major offender. The "cheap money" policy which the Treasury clings to so adamantly, coupled with the constant expansion of available credit as a result of the sale of ever-increasing amounts of government securities to the Federal Reserve Banks, are believed to be the primary causes of the present inflationary spiral. What has happened is that the amount of money which may be used to buy goods has heavily increased while the volume of goods for sale has not. Under those conditions, prices always rise. So long as this situation obtains, the economists also think, the price and other controls can do no more than moderately alleviate matters, and brake the progress of inflation to only a very limited degree.

As part of the inflation issue, the demand for the strictest kind of economy in government has reached a climax, in and out of Congress. Senator Byrd's documented contention that the proposed budget can be cut some $9,000,000,000 is being taken seriously now.

WHEN YOUR "E" BONDS MATURE

The Treasury Department offers three choices to holders of Series E, United States Defense Bonds, when their Bonds mature:

Choice: You may: One, accept cash, if you so desire; Two, continue to hold the present bond with an automatic interest-bearing extension; Three, exchange your bonds in amounts of $500 or multiples for a Defense Bond of Series G, which earns current income at the rate of 2½ percent payable semi-annually.

Action: If you want to obtain cash, you simply present your bond, with proper identification, to any paying agent. If you want to extend the matured bond you have ABSOLUTELY NOTHING TO DO—just continue to hold it. Extended bonds may be cashed at any time you wish. If you want a G Bond, see your bank for details.

Interest: The extended bond will earn simple interest on the face amount at the rate of 2½ percent for the first seven and one-half years. Thereafter it will be at a higher rate sufficient to provide a total return for the 10-year extension period of 2.9 percent compounded.

Taxes: You have the choice of (1) reporting E Bond interest for Federal income taxes on an annual basis or (2) paying the taxes on the interest in the year when the bonds finally mature or are redeemed. The privilege of deferring taxes does not apply if the E Bond is exchanged for a G Bond.

Building New Porch Steps
If your porch has wooden steps that are in poor condition, it may pay you to replace them with new steps of concrete which last almost indefinitely and are a permanent improvement to a house. The simple illustration indicates how simple it is to construct forms for the steps.

Use either 1-inch or 2-inch lumber for forms. These should be so built that the vertical distance between steps is about 7 or 7½ inches and the width of each tread is approximately 10 inches. The forms must be laid on ground that is firm and level.

Mixtures of concrete may vary with climates, so follow closely the recommendations of the cement manufacturer or dealer. You will want to produce concrete of a rather stiff consistency and containing sufficient mortar to make a smooth surface. When the concrete has hardened sufficiently in the forms to hold its shape, the forms may be removed. Uneven spots then can be filled and troweled smooth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engel of Taylorville were guests over the weekend of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stockley and family. Mrs. May Corp of Chicago spent last week with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller.

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

When the ice is out of the northern lakes, hundreds of anglers invade the mountains to fish for lake trout. Call them togoe, gray trout, Mackinaw trout, or Great Lakes trout, they'll give you plenty of brisk action on light tackle in the Spring.

There's real adventure in going after big lakers at this season, for you can catch them by trolling or casting along the shores, in fairly shallow water, where they fight hard due to the cold temperatures. And they usually strike with a rush, for they are hungry and won't let any choice chow escape them.

To have the best sport, Old Hi suggests you use the "Columbia" tubular glass fresh water trolling rod, with the tip measuring about 6 feet in length. This is a fine all-purpose rod for Spring trolling, and is equally suitable for the medium sized Chinook and silver salmon of the West, such as are found in Puget Sound.

For even livelier, more ticklish action, troll with a 3-piece "Ranger" tubular glass fly rod, using a streamer fly or small, wriggly plug for a lure. This rod is 9 feet long and weighs 6 ounces, and is sturdy enough for the light lures mentioned when the trolling is done over the shallow rocky and sandy bottoms.

With the first rod named, you would want one of the new "Sea Level" level wind reels with capacity for 150 yards of the recently developed nylon cuttyhunk line of 9 thread size.

This is a super special nylon cuttyhunk line that won't kink, swell, or fray, and is just the ticket for long-line angling for big lakers and salmon.

If you handle the glass fly rod, attach either a Sportcraft single action fly reel or an automatic reel, with 60 yards of Dry Flite level nylon fly line of size G or H, and 6 or 9 feet of around 15 pound test continuous length nylon leader material.

These rigs will make trolling for lake trout an exciting event, due to the action afforded. Likely you can find this tackle in your local sporting goods store, but if not then drop a letter to Old Hi, in care of this newspaper, and I'll put you on the right track.

At the same time ask for your free copy of my booklet "Fishing For The Millions," for in it you'll find lots of good dope on how to tease these elusive lakers into your net.

Did you know that on Aug. 28, 1949 at Manteo, Calif., a man by the name of August Livenais, Jr., cast a four ounce lead 735 feet, 10 inches by means of a surf casting outfit? This is the official world's record surf cast ... and quite a toss!

Surf casting is extremely popular and effective on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It accounts for good catches of such battlers as striped bass, weakfish, bluefish, and croakers. Old Hi suggests you send for his free copies of "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing" and read the chapters on surf casting.

Shockproof Homes

Lesson for July 15, 1951

EVERYBODY who begins a home wants it to last. Nobody really wants a temporary, makeshift home. There have been people who thought they wanted "trial marriage" but such persons did not want a home at all. What is it that holds homes together and makes them last? This brings many an earthquake shock. How do you get shockproof homes?

Dr. Foreman

Homes Without Marriage

LET it be said at once that while most homes begin with marriage, and the normal home consists of father, mother and children, there are homes without married couples. The story of Mary, Martha and Lazarus in the New Testament is the story of such a home.

Here were three grown persons, two sisters and a brother, and they had a good home; it must have been a good one, or Jesus would not have enjoyed going there as often as he did.

There have been other homes which have blessed all under the roof, such as a cottage group in an orphan's home, or a group of old people living together in one household; even a boarding house may, through the consecrated genius of some one person, become a kind of home, beloved and long happily remembered.

But when all is said and done, all these kinds of marriage-less homes, good as they often are, take as their model the "normal" home of parents-and-children. And this normal home begins with marriage. If the marriage is permanent, the home will be; if the marriage drifts and wrecks, so will the home.

"Till Death Do Us Part"

AS the present writer has said in "From This Day Forward" (a small book on the meaning of the Christian marriage service): "Only the Christian religion sponsors the highest form of marriage in the world. For Christian marriage is permanent. The state does not demand so much, social pressure in most places will not demand it, other religions have lower ways.

But the Christian ideal of marriage is nothing less than the union of one man and one woman, for their lifetime.

No Endurance Test

CHRISTIAN marriage is not a mere endurance test. If that is all, it may be genuine, but not successful. Now a genuine cake is not a pie and not a roast; but not all genuine cakes are successful.

Marriage and a home at their best can be a kind of heaven; but who would want a heaven that might evict its tenants any morning?

On a windy day in a certain street of houses hastily built for G.I.'s, any one might see the flimsy shingles flapping in the wind like so many sheets of paper. The young couples who were flim-flammed into buying these houses have already regretted it. No one wants to live in a house that the wind will blow to pieces. And no one wants a home that will be shaken apart by the winds of adversity or the earthquake shocks of disappointment.

The Heart of the Home

THE only real basis of a lasting home is love. Everybody knows this much; not every one knows what love is. Love is not mere sentiment, and much more than emotion.

What Paul said long ago has been put by J. B. Phillips into modern words:

"This love of which I speak is slow to lose patience—it looks for a way of being constructive. It is not possessive; it is neither anxious to impress nor does it cherish inflated ideas of its own importance. Love has good manners and does not pursue selfish advantage. It is not touchy. It does not compile statistics of evil or gloat over the wickedness of other people... Love knows no limit to its endurance, no end to its trust, no fading of its hope: it can outlast anything. It is, in fact, the one thing that still stands when all else has fallen."

A home where love of that sort is at its heart, will stand every shock of time.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Might Say

The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

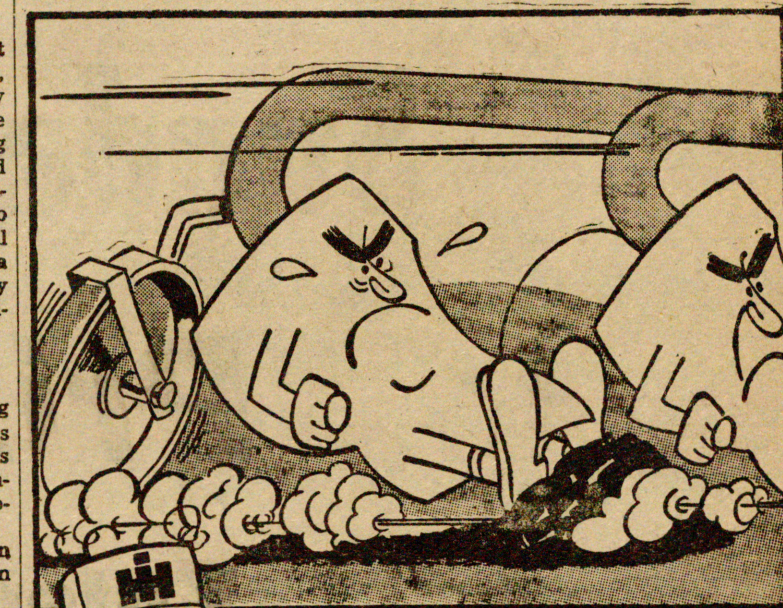

Seems they actually do use a cannon—to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the settling net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

"Just Been Thinkin'"

There is a pattern to be completed by the living of every life. Our hardships are really dark threads which will someday deepen the design and accentuate the bright efforts we have thrown against them. In the meantime, let us not lose faith in the wisdom of our Creator and Provider; and, for what ever He may choose to send our way

LET US GIVE THANKS
Let us not curse or criticize
The nature of our lot,
But proudly drink our drop of fate
As does the patriot ...
Just as our blessings may increase
They also may run dry
And, for a lack of love, may leave
The hearts where they would die ...

Let us be glad with what we own
Of youth, or joy, or health;
For what we have today may be
The acme of our wealth ...
Let us be thrilled with all God gives
And though our lot be small
Let us give thanks, for well we might
Have not a thing at all!
